This school offers the following advantages: A faculty of trained and experienced teachers; able and conscientions instruction; every girl under the guidance of the principal, who is herself a mother, and who gives her personal attention to the manners, speech and character-building of her pupils. With the purchase of an adjoining building eur accommodations have been so enlarged that we have added a Preparatory Department and secured the services of a Normal School teacher. We offer to the mothers of younger girls, what has been so much needed, a thoroughly equipped private school, conducted on the best public school methods, and kept strictly up to its grades. Individual attention will be given in a difficult study that a pupil may be kept up in grade, and time thus gained. Gymnasium, Play Room, Tennis Court. Send for illustrated catalogue.

Strike Affects Fall River Seriously. A dispatch from Fall River, Mass., last which began eight weeks ago, the city's population has dropped from 114,000 to 100,-000. Unless there is a settlement soon, it is believed that at least 5,000 more operatives will seek homes elsewhere. In almost every section of the city tenantless blocks and cottages are seen and many merchants have been financially ruined.

The city has been receiving about $35,-000 a week for factory labor during the last

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star. ATLANTIC CITY, September 17, 1904. One of the most remarkable storms, which was both electrical and of the characteristics of a hurricane, passed over this city at an early hour Thursday morning, and while terrifying during its brief existence did absolutely no damage and left the air

An unusual influx of fashionable folk from the mountains and the countryside to Atlantic City has occurred within the past week. All of the fashionable hotels are comfortably filled, while the smaller ones, of course, have dropped off in patronage, but are still open, doing better than ever before in their existence at this period of the year.

Within a short time the new Carnegle

Library, at Illinois and Pacific avenues, will be ready for occupancy. The work on this handsome structure is fast nearing completion, the work on the interior deco-ration having been started during the At the Hotel Rudolf this week the annual convention of the Master Car and Locomotive Painters' Association of the United States and Canada was held, about 300 delegates being present. Business sessions of importance were held in the morning, the afternoons being devoted entirely to The agreement required by ordinance to be signed by the West Jersey and Seashore railroad officials and the mayor of Atlantic City has been ratified, and Atlantic avenue will be paved before next summer.

Plenty Visitors to Make a Busy

Time Special Correspondence of The Evening Star. ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 16, 1904. Notwithstanding the fact that several of the leading hotels have formally closed their doors the resort is entertaining an unusually large September crowd. Of the larger hotels the Brunswick is doing an excellent business still and will not close End business is still brisk and Proprietor Ten Broeck is arranging the installation of a steam-heating system, which will render cozy and comfortable some forty rooms, and this portion of the hotel will remain open all winter. The Hotel Victoria is entertaining about the largest crowd of any of the beach-front houses and will not close its doors until Thanksgiving. The all-winter houses, of which the leaders are the Mariborough, the Touraine and the St. James, all have excellent bookings for the coming two months and are looking forward to an even more profitable winter ward to an even more profitable winter season than that of last year.

The September fishing is remarkably good, better than for many years past, and at the end of the fishing pier it has been a case of "standing room only" for the fishermen all the week. The weak fish have been very numerous and are of good size four and five-round fish being by size, four and five-pound fish being by no means unusual, and the average being about three pounds. A few flounders have also been landed at the pier.

The fishing in the open sea is even better than that from the pier, and when the surf has not been too high numerous fishing parties have ventured out in the yawl and other small craft. The sea-going fishermen have been rewarded with numerous fine sea bass and an occasional good catch of bluefish.

Among the Washington contingent at the Edgemere Inn are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Manogue. They will remain at this hotel

Washington is represented at the Madison by Miss M. A. Lansdon, who will remain during the early autumn.
